My name is Umahi Chizoba Queen, one of Inwelle Centre stars. Today, I am a Chemical Engineer, married, and have two kids. Inwelle Centre empowered me in this journey. I was among the first set of young girls who received training at Inwelle Study and Resource Centre. After the training in English language, computer appreciation, windows, Microsoft word and science subjects, I was able to get employment. While working, I gained admission into the university, and I was privilege to study and work which was rare in Nigeria. Because of the opportunity and the inspiration I got from Inwelle Centre mentoring, I became more focused to achieve my aim in life and developed a heightened aspiration. I am presently enrolled in a Masters' degree programme while at the same time teaching skills acquisition and science classes at the Centre.”
